

Success Criteria for Math Journals

I shared my thinking in many different ways by using words, numbers, pictures and/or diagrams.

I organize my answer so that it is easy to follow by leaving space between each new idea and labeling my pictures, tables and/or numbers.

I know I communicated in full sentences because I used capital letters and proper punctuation, and I read my work aloud to be sure it makes sense.

I read over the journal title and then my answer to make sure that my answer is reasonable.

I have a good understanding of the concept because I was able to think of different ways to show my thinking and I was able to decide if my answer is reasonable.
