

Indy 500 – Activity Sheet

The Indianapolis 500-mile (804km) race, also known as Indy 500 is held annually in the last weekend of May at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

It is considered one of the three most important motorsports events in the world. The seating capacity is more than 257,000 people. The race consists of 200 laps, run anticlockwise around the circuit, for a distance of approximately 804km.

Dario Franchitti was the winner for 2012 at 2.58hours. In 2010 he was also the winner.

Indy 500 Winning Times

Year	Approximate Time (hours)
1970	3.21
1980	3.5
1990	2.688
2000	2.983
2010	3.05

Find the winning time of the most recent Indy 500. Is this time greater than or less than the winning time in 2000? How much greater or less?